"As Port Moody continues to grow, it is important we balance housing and job creation alongside sustaining our quality of life, respecting our beautiful natural environment, heritage character and neighbourhood charm." Zoë Royer

Zoë acts with business sense and social conscience

As a two term city councillor, published author, artist, volunteer, owner of Silk Gallery in Port Moody and former health administrator, Zoë Royer brings a rare mix of strong business skills and sincere concern for social issues.

Zoë listens

For 30 years in private sector leadership roles, Zoë has made enterprises more profitable. On Council, she uses her business experience to watch the bottom line for taxpayers. She cares deeply about community inclusiveness, our fragile environment and carefully planned revitalization.

Zoë introduced a resolution to postpone Council's decision on the sale of Public Lands; she proposed the referendum, then Council deliberated over the question that's on the ballot in this election. Her action will lead to a better-informed decision about the future of lands that belong to all of us. Zoë is always eager to hear your voice on issues that impact the community and are important to you.

What matters to Zoë is a safe, vibrant, resilient community

Councillor Zoë Royer is endorsed for re-election by: the Port Moody Firefighters, NWDLC & local business owners

"Zoë cares about Port Moody. She believes in a strong, vibrant community, a healthy environment and thoughtful, well-considered decision making on every matter before her. I'm pleased to support Zoë for a third term on Council."

Fin Donnelly, Member of Parliament, Port Moody, Coquitlam, Anmore & Belcarra

"Her voice may be soft but her strength is undeniable; Zoë faces challenges head on, with grace and integrity. She works exceedingly hard to build a compassionate, sustainable and beautiful community, and Port Moody is fabulous as a result! Zoë always puts people first and her creative and thoughtful approach is something I will always admire about her."

Laura Dupont, Port Coquitlam Councillor

"Zoë is a strong, compassionate leader. She makes things happen and is highly respected in the arts and culture community."

Kimberly Blackstock, Artist

"Zoë is an organic thinker. She's creative, comfortable with change and listens to the points of view of others. When you work from the positive, as Zoë does, it's no wonder that ideas about enhancing our city, our shared environment and her passion for the arts float to the surface. We have always valued Zoë's contributions to council discussions."

Judy & Jim Atkinson, Environmental Stewards

"At the core of it, true leadership is about caring for people – and Zoë is a strong, compassionate leader who will continue to listen and advocate for the families in our diverse communities."

Jane Shin, Dean of Student Development, VCC, and former MLA for Burnaby-Lougheed

"Zoë is a kind-hearted and hardworking Councillor whom I am honoured to call a friend. As a Port Moody business owner, long time community volunteer, and mother of two daughters, she understands the hardships facing families and seniors. She is a great asset to Port Moody."

Lisa Park, SD43 Port Moody School Trustee

"For many years, I have known Zoë as a leader and a woman of integrity and honesty. She and her family have an impeccable record of commitment to our City. I entrust Zoë to do her part to ensure modest, slowed growth in our City and to press for maximum community contributions from developers who seek to build here. I trust in her commitment to keep growth sustainable, and to put the citizens and voters of our community first. I so appreciate her continued presence on Council."

Sandy Liles, former Port Moody Councillor

"Zoë has a proven track record as a caring and involved community leader in our city. Her passion for protecting our natural resources and building creative connections help make us truly a city of the arts."

Joyelle Brandt, Author; Parenting with PTSD

"Zoë has worked effectively and with a balanced approach in her past two terms on city council. As a resident of Port Moody, I will vote for her with confidence; I trust Zoë and know she will always do her best for our community."

Fred Soofi, Local Business Owner

"Zoë listens to the community. With her understanding of the environment, she is someone I want to have on Council."
